

Geometry Seminar
Tuesday, March 29, 2011
Room 201 WWH at 6:00 P.M.

Geometry at the Museum of Mathematics

George Hart
Museum of Mathematics

The Museum of Mathematics will open in Manhattan in 2012 with a mission to communicate the richness of mathematics to young and old alike. We want to change the public's attitude toward math and are designing a variety of interactive exhibits touching on many sub-fields of mathematics.

Geometry is the area which is easiest to present in a hands-on museum in a physical manner, but there are many difficult choices about what to include and at what level to present it. Come hear about the current status of our exhibit plans and give your input on what you feel would make an awesome visitor experience.

For more information, see <http://momath.org> and <http://georgehart.com>

For more information about this talk please visit the seminar website at:
http://www.math.nyu.edu/seminars/geometry_seminar.html.